

USING THE RIGHT INGREDIENTS TO KEEP DINING OPERATIONS FRESH

Royal Caribbean International Takes Taste Seriously Aboard Oasis of the Seas

Miami – Oasis of the Seas is the pinnacle of an amazing culinary evolution, offering a plethora of choice, both in cuisine and timing, dine where and when you want and with whom. Oasis of the Seas boasts an amazing 24 dining options throughout the ship that ensure there's something great to eat day and night, 24/7. Stroll over to your favorite neighborhood and sample a different venue for every meal, from sushi to steaks, crepes, seafood and pasta. Guests can enjoy the ambience and the full menus of the main restaurant, but set their seating time with the new My Time Dining program. With no pre-assigned tables, guests can make daily reservations for the time that suits them, or just walk in when the whim hits. Additionally, My Family Time Dining is geared to parents and children ages 3-11 with an expedited 45-minute dining service during early seating only.

"Oasis of the Seas offers the greatest variety of dining options in the cruise industry and compared to most hotel resorts in the world as well," says, Frank Weber, vice president, Food & Beverage Operations, Royal Caribbean International. Weber has worked in the hospitality business for 25 years, the past seven with Royal Caribbean.

The opportunities offered by Oasis of the Seas have allowed Weber and his team to create a multitude of restaurants throughout the ship. Out-of-the-box thinking and an impressive level of efficiency are second nature to Weber and his team, who understand how to offer guests fresh, delicious food of immense variety, while keeping the behind-the-scenes nuts and bolts of the operation running smoothly.

An impressive feat of organizational finesse, there are 20 separate galleys around the ship, plus onboard facilities ranging from a butcher shop to a fish prep room and a commissary kitchen – a Royal Caribbean first – which takes care of all the major prep work for all the galleys of the ship. Nearly 1,100 cooks, waiters, assistant waiters, bartenders, bar servers and cleaners in the food and beverage operations on board Oasis of the Seas, running venues that range from the spectacular three-level Opus dining room, which is divided into three independently-operating 650- to 1,100-seat restaurants, to the most intimate venue, the 14-seat Chef's Table, an exclusive venue for private parties.

"I could have never imagined I'd be involved in such an amazing and groundbreaking project as Oasis of the Seas," says Weber. "I am very proud we can offer guests so much choice and such great taste."

For the most high-end dining experience, head to 150 Central Park, where Chef de Cuisine Keriann von Raesfeld, a talented and award-winning young female chef, is at the helm. Casual venues are plentiful as well for sandwiches, wraps and salads, as well as coffee, donuts and ice-cream sundaes. For the health-conscious, not only has the entire Royal Caribbean fleet been transfat-free for three years, two outlets especially focus on healthy eating – the spa’s Vitality Café and the Solarium Bistro, where each dish is less than 500 calories. Across the board, menus offer more “super foods” such as tomatoes, broccoli and berries, more interesting vegetarian options (such as East Indian dishes), and sensible Tapas-style servings.

Here’s where to find all the palate-pleasing new choices aboard Oasis of the Seas:

THE BOARDWALK
