ROYAL CARIBBEAN REVEALS 2022/2023 ADVENTURES ON AUSTRALIA'S
THREE BOLDEST SHIPS

Two High-tech Quantum Class Ships and a Fan-favourite Set to Triple the Adventure Down Under

SYDNEY, 18 March 2021 – A summer of adventure is on the horizon as Royal Caribbean International announces its blockbuster 2022/23 Australian season, featuring three of the region's boldest ships — including two high-tech Quantum Class ships. Bookings open Thursday 25 March 2021.

From October 2022, sun-seekers can discover Queensland's newest, most technologically advanced ship, Quantum of the Seas, sailing from Brisbane's brand-new International Cruise Terminal. Meanwhile, adventure lovers can embrace action-packed indulgence on board her sister ship the innovative Ovation of the Seas or savour world-class dining on Radiance of the Seas, both sailing from Sydney.

"Quantum Class ships are in a league of their own in Australian waters — and we have two sailing in the 2022/2023 season," says Gavin Smith, VP and managing director, Royal Caribbean International, Australia and New Zealand. "This calibre of ship isn't seen elsewhere in this region, and their technological innovation and modern hardware open up a new audience to cruising."

"Along with fan-favourite Radiance, they offer variety and adventure that can't be matched — it will be time to turn holiday-making up full throttle in 2022/23."

Together the three game-changing ships will offer 66 sensational 2- to 19-night cruises to sun-soaked ports throughout Australia, New Zealand, Vanuatu, New Caledonia, Fiji and Loyalty Islands. The new season also features more weekend 2- or 3-night "sampler" cruises than ever before, so guests can get a taste for cruise life and weekend like they mean it in 2022/23.

Quantum is the newest and most technologically advanced ship ever to homeport in Queensland, and with features like the RipCord by iFly skydiving simulator, North Star all-glass viewing capsule and FlowRider surf simulator, she offers the ultimate family holiday from the Sunshine State. Along with over 18 different dining options — including Jamie's Italian, Chops Grille steakhouse and whimsical Wonderland — she'll also bring a new wave of entertainment never seen before in Australia.
